Article history

Now the previous versions of an article do not get lost; they are stored and the user can retrieve them by clicking a Show history button on the Article view page. This button opens the Article history page.

Article history page

The article history page shows a list of links to all versions of the article (the most recent one is on top).

The list looks like this:

Version 10 edited by 192.168.1.1 on September 24 at 23:59:01 [View]

Version 9 edited by 192.168.1.1 on September 22 at 11:45:34 [View]

...and so on.

Clicking on the View button opens up the Article view page showing the requested version of the article.

Hint

You don't have to implement this feature. Just think of ways you could do it.
